

FINALE LIGURE RACE

PIEVO DI TECO

Second Place

road trip DH/4x Training

My first race this year and I am back on the podium. It felt great. I went on a road trip with the first stop in Finale Ligure, where I stayed with Elisa from Elicaride.com. I left the cold Austria and found myself in an either more cold Italy. Crazy it snowed. But it didn't last for very long and I found myself riding in the sun on a nice track in Pievo di Teco and for my surprise a race was going on this weekend. The first Italian race and I guess one of the first races in Europe. So I didn't want to miss the chance of doing my first race this year and practice the race situation. There were so many competitors from all over the place. From Croatia, Slovenia, Poland, Swiss, Germany. So a bunch of people

The track was very nice and I liked it a lot. Many many turns, some jumps and drops, some very steep section and then speed section as well. But what I really have to criticize is everything apart from the track. The organisation was so bad. We had to runs and in the first one I had a little crash and the second one worke out well for me I placed 2nd. Elisa got first and 3rd the Italian Camp Alisa.
